

OSEIXO

Residence Program

Oseixo is a sustainable architecture and energy engineering group. We believe in reconsidering the way of inhabiting for a better quality of life in balance with the environment. We aim to foster local dynamics, as enhancing heritage, from the habitat perspective, combining traditional know how and innovation through a conscious, healthy, efficient, participative and social-centered architecture.

BREAKTHROUGH INITIATIVE Residence Program

Breakthrough Initiative was born as a way to accelerate the process of scientific research, creating a huge community of scientists, researchers and people that is willing to support this investigations, working as a hole to bring today the breakthroughs that should be for future generations. How this works? BTI will take the information that the researchers upload and create simple on-line experiments, so any person around the globe, even without science background, can help to generate massive data for the research.

ELENKO Residence Program

ELENKO is a new boost for a social and environmental improvement through collaborative strategies for recycling e-waste. Our challenge is to implant an innovative system which increases the organized recycling culture in the cities, optimizing efficiently the resources and reducing the differences with the most advanced societies. ELENKO will be implemented in Extremadura, a region in the south-west of Spain.

Cross Hands Architectures

Residence Program

Cross Hands Architecture is a startup which aims to be an organization that promotes human rights through architecture and design. We are problem solvers who believe in the power of co-creation, challenging different citizens to get involved in the creative process, seeking more effective answers to the toughest problems of humanity. We want to find solutions that go beyond the architectural point of view therefore we manage for each project a volunteering mission where other professionals can transmit knowledge empowering communities to become self-sufficient.
